

Democracy through Drama Summer School

22-26th July 2019

Budapest

*Come and explore how drama can be used in teaching humanities subjects to enhance democratic classrooms!

Drama in Education and Mimesis in Education approaches can offer the chance to examine democracy and offer teachers of Languages and Humanities models of enhancing students' active exploration, reflection and citizenship skills within curriculum subject lessons.

Experts have created implementable materials for teachers that will be shared together with the thinking behind them, so teachers can adapt or create new teaching materials for their own specific group and curriculum.

Arrival: 21st of July (social program in the evening)

Summer School: 22nd to 26th of July

Departure: afternoon and evening of 26th of July

Venue: Studio of Örkény István Theatre, in the heart of Budapest, (1075 Budapest, Madách Imre tér 6.)

Accommodation: There are many hotels and budget accommodations near the venue. The organisers will be recommending some possibilities by January 2019.

Course fee: Full price € 350 / Solidarity price € 100
We will offer solidarity price to those who are not eligible for EU mobility funding or have applied but been unsuccessful.

Funding: The Erasmus+ Key Action 1: Learning Mobility of Individuals offers funding for the full course fee, travel and living costs.

Look for ERASMUS+ KA1 funding on your National Agency's website. Find your National Agency here:

<https://ec.europa.eu/programmes/erasmus-plus/node/2105>

Get in touch with the coordinator or project partners if you need help with the application!

Register for the Summer School here:

<https://goo.gl/forms/kSp7g6EZs7G4X0qG3>

Summer School coordinator:

Adam Bethlenfalvy / InSite Drama

(bethlenfalvy@insite-drama.eu)

Information about the Democracy through Drama Erasmus+ project led by Birmingham City

University at: www.demodram.com